

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention is a non-slip rug sized to cover a substantial portion of a stair. The non-slip rug includes an upper rug-like layer. The non-slip rug includes an integral non-slip base layer positioned on a bottom side of the upper rug layer. When the non-slip rug is positioned on a stair, the base directly contacts the stair and prevents movement of the non-slip rug.